BETTER GO BACK TO ENGLAND.

DR. C. F. AKED, the alien preacher of the San Francisco Examiner staff, has been engaged to deliver a series of lectures in Nevada to promote the cause of suffrage. He is to appear under the auspices of the Nevada Equal Franchise Society and the advance notices proclaim the fact that the expatriated subject of Great Britain and the expurgated pastor of the Presbyterian church has an intense belief in the necessity of votes for women and that he will render invaluable assistance to the suffrage cause.

It may not be necessary to introduce the ex-clergyman to the readers of the Bonanza as the speaker who denounced Reno as the vestibule of hell and Nevada as a cesspool of iniquity. Dr. Aked is known as a sentimentalist of the most lurid stripe, who is out for the money and whose talents are for sale to the highest bidder. His emanations in the San Francisco papers disclose a certain putridity of view, as his writings are largely restricted to the discussion of sex questions that are seldom mentioned in print. He has a weakness for dissecting such matters as the Diggs-Caminetti trial, eugenics and white slavery, all of which pander to the basest appetites of the vulgar and degraded of both sexes.

If Dr. Aked is such a firm believer in the right of suffrage it is timely to inquire why he does not go home to the tight little isle where the suffragettes flourish with perfect abandon and in absolute lawlessness. He would find a better field for his advice, but he probably reflects that he would not find as tolerant a people in Great Britain as he finds in the wilds of Nevada. If he is a stickler for principle he should gird on the armor of righteousness and volunteer his services to the downtrodden sisterhood of his own country rather than try to embroil the women of Nevada in domestic strife.

Aked takes rank with the class of blatant, loud-mouthed gaffers who make a living by the sweat of their jaws. He is an I. W. W. highbrow whose chief aim is to cartoon, lampoon and harpoon every idea of decency and whose doctrines are revolting to decency. He should be invited to deport himself and spend the remainder of his days with Emmeline Pankhurst and her satellites.

A JUGHANDLED DEAL.

ACCORDING to the Carson News the women opposed to suffrage should stick to their knitting at home and not meddle with public affairs. To support this ladylike argument the News suggests that no harm can come from non-interference with the plans of the suffragettes. It looks peculiar, says the News, to have women take an interest in combating the heresies of suffrage for womanhood or show any opposition, and the absurdity of the argument is exemplified by asking, "If there be any women in the state who are not in favor of the ballot why should they not go along the even tenor of their ways and pay no attention to it. They don't have to vote if they do not wish to, and they do not even have to associate with the women who desire the ballot if they feel that the voting kind is of an inferior kind of clay." Then this abstract philosopher adds: "It seems a sort of a dog in the manger act. Because they do not desire the ballot they do not wish any one else to have it. It might be just as reasonable to cause an agitation against the selling of red calico because some of the women don't want to wear red calico."

The editorial consists of the most puerile statements that would shame a debater in the fourth grade of the public schools. It would be just as wholesome to suggest that a householder who detects a firebug burning his property should not interfere and protect his premises from damage and possible destruction. A passive policy of doing nothing will never meet with the approval of a free people. Those who are opposed to suffrage have rights they wish to see preserved. They have the inalienable right of free speech and will not be gagged even to please a few inflammatory demagogues whose chief ambition is to stir up unrest and set the world by the ears in a pandemonium of strife. It might as well be urged with the same consistency that no one should meddle with the affairs of lawbreakers since every one has the right to obey the law and none is compelled to indulge in infractions of the statutes.

Such arguments applied to the sensible women of Nevada implies they are a lot of ninny without a thought of their own or any independence of action. The fact that suffrage is opposed by some of the best women of the state means they are fully alive to their own interests and want to see those interests saved from the clutches of a lot of irresponsible harpies whose only desire is to parade in masculine garb and disport themselves in public with shameless effrontery.

With regard to the statement that speakers against suffrage have been imported from other states the taunt may easily be hurled back in the teeth of the suffragettes whose leaders came to Nevada from other states to proselyte and impose their fallacies on the women of Nevada. One glance at the muster roll of the suffering yetts will demonstrate this fact. They are here for what they can make and have nothing to lose.

Evidently President Wilson looks upon the Niagara conference without including the constitutionalists as a sort of "Hamlet" with the Dane left out.

If California can only keep Mount Lassen going until the Panama-Pacific exposition closes it will be a great drawing card.

President Wilson says that the general depression is not due to the tariff. It may be due entirely to atmospheric pressure.

The militant suffragette arson squad certainly is playing with fire and some of these days will get its fingers badly burned.

Since Admiral Fletcher and General Funston occupied Vera Cruz they have had nothing to occupy their time.

How easy it is to pass out of the limelight! Upton Sinclair and Ben Lindsey are now in the deep shadows.

The indications are that Carranza will call President Wilson his great and good friend before Huerta does.

It is as easy to start revolutions and counter revolutions in Mexico as it is to start a fire in a hay loft.

And in the meantime, what has become of Lopez?

CONTRACT LET FOR A MONTANA ROAD

IS BELIEVED TO BE THE FIRST LINK OF BUTTE, BOISE AND SAN FRANCISCO.

The contract for what is believed to be the first link of the Boise, Butte & San Francisco railroad has been let to the McArthur Brothers of London, who are to start work on July 1, says the Boise (Ida.) Capital News.

The line, which is known as the Southern Montana, is to be built from Divide to Jackson, a distance of 128 miles, and covers the same line as is designated in the articles of incorporation of the Butte, Boise & San Francisco line being promoted by L. O. Leonard.

A recent issue of the Boston Copper News, published in Boston, says: "At this writing all surveys, plans and specifications for the building of the Southern Montana have been completed and valuable right-of-way and land grants have been secured." The Big Hole Basin News, published at Wisdom, Mont., in speaking of the Southern Montana and the letting of the contract, says: "In fact, not a few even now believe the road to be a part of the Butte, Boise and San Francisco line, the capital stock of which was recently raised from $400,000,000 to $125,000,000."

Considerable space in the Boston paper is given to the letting of the contract of this line, most of the news being clipped from publications in Montana. The fact that the road penetrates a rich mining district in Montana and that it extends southward over the route mapped out by Mr. Leonard and his backers, causes many to believe the rumor, so common and persistent among railroad men, that work on the line which will connect Butte with San Francisco, via Boise, has already been started. Is true.
